

Technical Considerations

Very often excessive oil consumption on reciprocating engines is due to wear between the running parts. Protector Oilseal has been formulated in order to seal the excessive play with a concentrated layer coating worn surfaces or to fill scratches and pores.